

MCRD Museum Reference Center Testimonials:

[Anne, 30/31 October 2019]

I want to thank you again for your assistance during my visit to the Reference Center on October 30/31. It was as enjoyable as it was productive and I could not have gotten as much material as I did during my visit without your help!

Your website was invaluable in planning my trip from South Dakota and making the most of my limited time at the MCRD. Had I not been able to review holdings in advance and communicate with you about my project ahead of time, my visit would not have been nearly as successful. I appreciate your interest in my WWII research and all of the materials you had ready and waiting for me. They are a great addition to my previous research, filling in many details about the Depot and Camp Elliott during the 1941-42 time period. I know I will be spending the winter reviewing this wealth of information!

Although it wasn't planned, it was particularly meaningful to be on the base for Family Day, and to see the new Marines about to graduate. Watching these young Marines and their loved ones certainly made me think of the WWII veterans I've interviewed who were there 78 years earlier, and all who carry on the proud Marine tradition.

Thank you for a memorable visit, for your expertise, and for all you do to preserve the MCRD archives. Wishing you a very Happy Thanksgiving and my best wishes for the holiday season and New Year.
